A message from the Dean...

Dollars are votes. Most of us know this. How we choose to spend our dollars is a direct vote for that product or service. If you are reading this, you've chosen to belong to an organization whose mission it is to enhance, support, educate and further the community of those who play the organ. In these uncertain times with churches closing and attendance down, every vote counts and your membership is important and meaningful. It helps to provide assistance to young beginning organists like our own Griffin McMahon, Monica Czausz and Emelyn Bashour. Your dues support the national magazine, national and regional conferences, and the local chapter. While the local chapter is volunteer-run, the programs need financial support and you have underwritten so far this year the opening tea at the home of Lesniak and Finnegan, the magnificent David Briggs concert, the humorous organ Phantasmagoria and the most delicious and educational Pastor-Organist dinner. Nice job. Your dollar votes will also underwrite the young organist Quimby competition taking place this month by giving money toward a scholarship for the winner. Your dollars will sponsor the Members' Recital reception (March 20), help bring Peter Krasinski back to Holyoke for another wonderful silent movie (April 9) and give us all a chance to socialize with one another at Charlie Page's home at the end-of-the-year cookout (June 5).

Bodies are votes, too. Your attendance at organ related events is a vote that is just as important as the dollars, maybe even more so. Behind every event is someone or some committee that has put in many hours organizing, rehearsing, preparing and advertising it. These events need audiences and organists need to attend such events in order to encourage and support their colleagues. I recently attended a benefit concert at St. Michael's cathedral which Lad Pfeiffer and his choir had organized so beautifully. There were four different choral groups with an interesting mix of styles and age, including a Jewish chorus from Longmeadow and a high school chorus from Agawam. The proceeds (suggested donation $10) amounted to $1100 which went to support the Head Start Healthy Relationships program. It was a lovely evening and so much good came of it. This is only one example of the many that are listed monthly in Chiff Chat. So mark your calendars and go to a concert--may I suggest the upcoming Members' Recital? Our own members could use your vote!
